SECOND ROUND—RE-PLAYED TIE.
WOODLESFORD v FEATHERSTONE.
These teams met for the third time this afternoon in the above cup competition on Sunday afternoon last, on the Woodlesford course, in miserable weather and before a attendance of spectators. Woodlesford were the losers, and those to play with the strength of the wind. When Featherstone were off, the home-ers—only nine men in the field, Nicholas and only nine men

The visitors at once assumed the offensive, when Mirfin deliberately fouled Hall near goal, and in consequence Smith was sent off. The referee was obliged to find difficulty in scoring the first goal for the visitors. This reverse in the opening stages of the game looked serious for the Woodesford team, but their luck changed when their vacancies were now filled. equalised for Woodlesford. Johnson, bad judgment let his opponents in, coming to the reace. Hobson found good opening, and passed the ball to the centre, Mitchell unfortunately lagged a nice chance. Woodlesford missed a free kick owing to the visitors' defence carrying the ball, but made poor use of it. The shorty afterwards Mitchell re-started play, pointing in the visitors' half, and from there a brilliant goal shot was sent in by Taylor, completely beat the visitors' custodian. Woodlesford were now playing a very good game and kept their rivals for a while on the defensive. Hobson sent in a raking shot which Taylor failed to negotiate.

stone now became dangerous, the ball became bouncier, Parker again saving well. Visitors still kept up the pressure, and a scrimmage in front of the home goal. Holmes was successful in netting the ball. Woodhouse cleared their defense to their opponents' territory. There were two corners, one for the visitors, one for the home team. Taylor, Mitchell and Hobson with difficulty frustrated Featherstone's relief by conceding a corner. A buzzer was shortly after conspicuous with good play, and the homesters were winning well and looked as if they were about to be victorious, when Mirfin simply changed the game away by handling the ball. Finally being awarded, resulted in Smith's getting the third goal for Featherstone.

turning the score equal. The whistle rang for time. Featherstone was now in of having the encounter replayed on the ground. The referee, who was one of leaving, when an appeal was made took place, and being granted by Mr. Brown, the referee, the game was recommenced with renewed excitement, and it had not long been in progress before Mitchell scored the fourth goal. Taylor and McFarlane had shots which went behind, and a scrimmage, Mitchell added the fifth goal. Again changing ends, Woodleaford scored the sixth goal. At the end of the first half complete mastery of the situation, and about five minutes play, the game was stopped for darkness, leaving Woodleaford victorious by 5 goals to 3. The home on Friday night last, under the presidency of Mr. J. R. Seaton, there being only moderate attendance. Mr. B. Tetley, of Houston, was the lecturer and gave many interesting particulars about the country, the aspect of the country and history were taken into. The flora of various parts was described, as well as Bush life and the and traditions of the Maori race were covered. Many interesting details about the food-culture and the way the logs are floated down-stream were given. Mr. Tottle has lived for some time in New Zealand and is able to speak of many places and things which he had seen himself. The lecture was very interesting and much enjoyed, many anks being due to the lecturer for his come and studied descriptions of the various ines represented. Mr. A. Arnold again tributed to and enhanced the lecture by good manipulation of the lantern, there-

THE LAST PEAL.

---

'Tis lost or strayed, that well-known peal,
Which from the old Church Tower did steal;
Sexton, Wardens, Priest and People,

Why the silence in the steeple.
If ye know, then why not tell it?
If 'tis told then who did sell it?
But if 'tis lost, as I surmise,
Then why do ye not advertise?
If 'tis stolen from the village,
Then who did so base a pillage?
Send at once Police and Watchmen,
Round about to try and catch them.
If 'tis strayed, then who not follow?

Search alike, both hill and hollow;
And if ye should chance to find it,
Let it not escape, but bind it.
Blind is tight, and bring it back;
Oh do not let your courage lack;
Shall such deeds be unregarded?
He, who find'st, shall be rewarded.

In solemn lays "the lonely bell,"
Has called aloud to hill and dell;
Hath called to each and all,
That dwell on earth's wide vale.

Which made me pass this event.

A lonely bell is the one tolled for Divine Service.
I W.P., Woodlesford.

ROTHWELL, INDEPENDENT LABOUR PARTY.

The announcement by the above body that Mr. J. B. Glasier, of the National Administrative Council of the L.L.P., was to lecture in the Mechanics' Hall, on Monday night, has, on the part of the Independent Labour Party, excited the suspicion of a section of the ratepayers that the meeting was to be one of a pro-Boer character, and condemnatory of the Government's South African policy. That this was so, is borne out by the publication of Monday morning of a handbill, calling on loyal Rodditts to rally round the Union Jack, and to attend the meeting. The services of the Rothwell Old Band were also engaged, who played "The Queen" and other patriotic and national music in the streets as well as in the vicinity of the meeting place just before the lecture was announced to commence. It was rumoured in the town during the evening that the Independent Labour Party had decided not to allow the meeting to be held, but this was found to be a groundless rumour, as large crowds flocked into the hall shortly before the lecture was announced to commence. An excited and expectant audience. The time up to the lecturer and chairman taking up their positions on the platform, was marked by ebullitions of popular national and patriotic music, indicative of strong opposition and lively physical disturbance, should anything disrespectful be said of those who were engaged in the war or of the policy of the Government in the present crisis. Mr. W. Linn, the chairman, and Mr. W. Linn, the lecturer, were both on the platform, the crowd struck up with renewed vigour the National Anthem, to the singing of which they were bound to listen before anything like a speech could be commenced. Mr. Linn, on rising, appealed to the audience as a body of Englishmen and women for a fair hearing; they had engaged the lecturer, and were prepared to pay for it, and that being so he thought that although he might not agree with the sentiments expressed, they might at any rate give the lecturer a chance to express his opinion, and deal with the subject from his point of view. He then said a few words on the lecture, he said, for questions and discussion, so that any one desirous of speaking would have a fair chance.

WAR FUND.

At a meeting of the inhabitants of Rothwell held on Wednesday, the 13th day of December, 1899, it was decided to make an earnest appeal in favour of one or other of the following funds:

(1) Widows and Orphans of those lost in the War.

(2) Sick and Wounded.

(3) Disabled Soldiers and Sailors.

(4) Wives and Children left at home.

Contributions may be sent to Mr. Geo. Arncliffe,

the chairman of the Council, at Westfield House,

Rothwell, who has kindly consented to act as Treasurer,

or to the Rothwell Branch of the London City and Midland Bank, Ltd., to the account of "The War in South Africa Fund."

Any one who can assist in the collection of the funds they will be their contributions to be appreciated.

ROTHWELL DISTRICT COUNCIL

ELECTION.

Now that the preliminary 'scouting' is over, it appears that the actual fighting is to take place in Rothwell only, the other three wards, Louthouse, Carlton and Stourton,

having agreed on one man each; Messrs. Jas

Alderson, Squire Dobson, and E. S. Turb-ott are therefore elected as members of the Council for these three wards respectively.

For the North Ward Councillor W. W.

Harrison is to be opposed by Mr. A. W.

Baker, who is quite new in the arena of public service, although well-known and respected in many other forms of voluntary work. There have been no meetings, there are no manifestoes, from either of these gentlemen, so that almost impossible to say anything as to their reasons for seeking the position, or their intentions should they succeed. They are both well-known, and have each, in one form or another, done a large amount of useful work, and they may well be predicted that there will be a stiff struggle for the coveted seat of honour.

For the South Ward, Councillor J. Stain-

d is confronted by a member of the Independent Labour Party, Mr. Wright Taylor.

While in the North Ward, both candidates are Liberals, and have many claims to consideration, the candidates in the South are in direct opposition to each other, and while there may be objections to some quarters as to the sitting Councillor, in this section, the main

matter for decision is as to which of the two will best further the interests of the public, and carry on the work of the Council on fair

and economical lines.

The polling takes place to-morrow week,

from eight o'clock in the morning till eight

at night. The Old Band-stand, in West

Parade, Commercial Street, is the polling

booth for the North Ward, and the Council

Offices, in Marsh Street, for the South Ward.

The results will be declared the same night.

ROTHWELL SCHOOL BOARD

MEETING.

The monthly meeting of the above Board

was held on Friday evening at Rothwell;

present, Messrs. A. Batty (chairman), T.

Park, J. Butterick, J. Stobbs, B. Richardson,

Mr. L. J. Jones, Rev. J. A. Alderson, and the

Clark (Mr. Marshall) and attendance officer

(Mr. Denton).

Before proceeding with the business, the Chairman asked permission to personally

thank the colleagues for the kindly vote of sympathy sent to him during his illness; he was perfectly satisfied, however, that the business of the Board would be carried on in the best manner so long as he had so excellent a 'vice' as Mr. Stobbs.

On the motion of the various Board and committee meetings, having been read, were passed, several items arising out of the minutes

being taken up at a later period in the evening.

PRESENTATION OF PRIZES & CERTIFICATES.

On the 12th of March at Rothwell High School, a pleasant afternoon was spent by scholars, teachers, and a large number of parents, when the prizes and certificates

earned by the children for good conduct and regular attendance were presented to them

by the clerk of the Board, Mr. J. Stobbs.

OUR SOLDIER LADS.

PRIVATE JOHN CROMACK, writes from Ladyship, March 4th, as follows:-
Dear Mother—You will begin to think that I have forgot all about you in England, but I think if you had gone through what I have been through, you would not forget me so much time to write; still I never forget you all at home. I had the pleasure of seeing Hamilton and Blackburn about three weeks ago, they were both very good old hotwells. You will have seen the paper, that we have relieved Ladyship, and rather tough job it was ; we have been 17 days under fire, but the last day was the worst, but it did not hurt us much. We killed them and shot into us like a flock of sheep. They poured shot and shell into us like a shower of rain. We had 4 officers killed and 7 wounded, and 21 men killed and between 90 and 100 wounded. The Captain belongs to my company, but he is not here.

This is the first day we have had to ourselves since we left Chevelay, on the 14th of February. It is quite a pleasure to have a good wash, and to be on full rations again. I am glad to see the weather clearing up some more days, and I want you to take the greatest care of the box, and do not part with it at any price, as I shall always keep it as a memento of our stay in the trenches. As soon as we have got the Boer's away from Ladyship, I think the war will soon be over. We have got all the cavalry after them, and they are running before us. I have lost sight of hundreds of wounded in it, so that we have to look after their wounded as well as our own. Am very pleased you are sending me some cigarettes out, I have not received them yet, but it will give me something to smoke a week longer than letters to get out here, so I shall have them in a few days, and I am sure they will come in handy, as you are sure to get letters from me.

I thought I never fell out here, as I think after our last engagement, when we went out to bury the dead ; I thought there was many a poor mother in England who would be worried by her boy being killed. I was buried just where they had fallen. We dug two just trenches and put the 4 officers in one, and 21 men in the other, and just put a wooden cross to mark their last resting place. I don't know how long it will be before more stamps with your letters, as they are no use here. You say in your last letter you wish the war was over, but there is no doubt that it will be the happiest day of our life to go through it. I will be the happiest man living, the day I put my foot on board ship at Capetown. With love to all, and hoping by the time this letter reaches you, the peace will be declared.

JOHN CROMACK

Elsie Briggs who were still holding the position they took the day before, and there we remained under a heavy shell fire all day. Wednesday at 8-30 p.m. we were ordered to leave the trench and go to the rear. We left and left the Boers to console themselves with shelling the empty hill next morning, why we came back this way remains to be seen. We were ordered to go to the rear and send, as we have now tried three times to get to Ladysmith, when will we arrive I wonder. I tell you we don't care for this business, as we are not getting any nearer the front. We look here, we could just walk away with them if we had them in the open and fought them fair and square, but they get behind rocks and trees and we can't get at them. I wish any of them if you try for a week; a little puff of smoke and a bullet whistles past you, then you know there is a Boer there. Given up the idea of attacking the Boers, we are going to acquiring friends, and thank the Reheeler Times for forwarding the newspaper to us. It is so seldom we can get any English news that we fairly jump at the first news we see. The new paper is called Colon Hamilton

Mr. H. H. Robert also receives the following letter from Hamilton:—In which he acknowledges the letters and Times with thanks. A tin of coffee and cocoa comes in very useful, as we have no chance to buy anything like that here. Asquith sent me chocolate and a packet of M&S's cocoa, which I shall have time to make one; so thank him very much and tell him it is the best thing he could have done under the circumstances. I saw Jack Cromack on Sunday week, and also a Blackburn, one of the Militia Reserve, who was a rather nice fellow. I shall have to be home for a week after he came, and he is in my Company. We will have a jolly good go for old time aake when it's over. So far as I am concerned, I am not in a hurry to get home, we are keeping our shoulder to the wheel to get over these lumps, but we will be glad to get home when we are well knocked about. I am trying to get to Lacy-smith, but now we are ready to try again; we'll get there yet, I am sure. This reminds me of "Bruce and the spider," who tried seven times, (I don't think much of Bruce of Bonell, but I like the man who does a job seven times, now), so I may have to try seven times to get to Lacy-smith in force, as it is such a country as you cannot imagine, and we are properly handicapped. However there is a way over every difficulty, and of course I shall find that way yet. Kind regards to all.—W. H.

Sir Charles Lowndes. Bart., of Swillington Hall, near Leeds, was on Wednesday last promoted to the rank of Lieutenant in the 1st Royal Buffs. (The Buffs are now at the front in Leeds and York), now at Norvalle Post, South Africa.

YOUNG FOLKS' COLUMN.

THE BOY THAT LAUGHS.

I know a funny little boy,
The happiest ever born;
His face is like a beam of joy,
Although his clothes are torn,
I saw him tumble on his nose,
And waited for a groan;
But how he laughed! and you suppose
He struck his funny bon?
There's sunshine in each word he speaks,
His laugh is something grand;
He ripples like a laughing brook,
Like waves on snowy sand.
He laughs the moment he awakes,
And till the day is done;
The school-room for a jape he takes,
His lessons are but fun.
No matter how the day may go,
You cannot vex his cry;
He's never so downy but to show
Who pout and whope and sigh.

BOYS WHO SUCCEEDED.

Thirty years ago Mr. H.—, a nurseryman, was in the city. It was a rainy season, and not a season for sales, but a customer arrived from a distance, told him that he had a fine lot of trees in the farmhouse, where two lads were croaking nuts.

"Is Mr. H.— at home?"

"Is no, sir," said the eldest, Joe, hammering at a nut.

"Who will be back?"

"Dunno, ar. Maybe not for a week."

The other boy, Jim, jumped up and followed the man to the door. "You don't think I can show you the stock," he said, with such a bright, courteous manner, that the stranger, who was a nurseryman, and found fault with him through the nursery, examining the trees, and left his order.

He sent him the largest invoice that he had. He had this season, Jim, his father, greatly pleased, said to him on his return.

"You are a good fellow, and willing to be as Jim. I'd thought in time."

A few years afterwards the two boys were well on in life and dead with £200 or £250 each. Joe bought an acre or two near London. He has worked hard, but is a poor, miserly fellow. Jim bought an acre and a half in Colorado, took a place as a cattle driver for a couple of years, and with his wages bought a fine place. He is a good fellow, and his friends of all kinds are numbered by the thousand, his land has been cut up for town lots, and he is now as one of the richest men in the country.

"I might have done like Jim," his brother said, "but I was not in time. There's a good deal in it as is this."

"There's as good a life in that lot of bread as in this," said the married man, "but nobody can eat it. There's not enough yeast in it." The remark, though disagreeable to Jim, was a good one, and he took note of it. It was a lesson in a character is partly natural. But it can be corrected by parents and teachers, and it is a good thing when eyes open and act promptly and boldly in every emergency.

"You can't spell long words like hippopotamus!" said one little boy sarcastically to another.

"You can't, where I'm lucky," answered the second boy. "I don't have to."

Mother: "Well, dear, are you feeling any better?"

Girl: "I don't know, mummy. Is the jelly any good?"

Mother: "No, dear."

Girl: "I don't like it, mummy, and I don't think I'm any better."

LATE AT THE BALL.

A COMPLETE STORY.

A few years since there lived at Southport a dandified individual called Jenks. This gentleman had a thoroughly famous and popular part in the personal appearance. His fingers were tipped with rings, his shirt bosom was decorated with a magnificent solitary, and his hair, which was dark and wavy, was combed in a style that was the height of fashion. He was a man of great wealth, and he was a man of great power. He was a man of great influence, and he was a man of great authority. He was a man of great importance, and he was a man of great consequence. He was a man of great distinction, and he was a man of great prominence. He was a man of great reputation, and he was a man of great fame. He was a man of great honor, and he was a man of great glory. He was a man of great power, and he was a man of great influence. He was a man of great importance, and he was a man of great authority. He was a man of great distinction, and he was a man of great prominence. He was a man of great reputation, and he was a man of great fame. He was a man of great honor, and he was a man of great glory.

"I will tell you something I've got, if I can make anything of it," replied Jenks. "Oh, no," said one, "not anything; you wouldn't tell your board."

A loud laugh followed this chance remark. Jenks immediately answered: "I wouldn't who would want it? Any person making the purchase would lose money by the operation, I'm thinking."

"Well," observed Jenks, "I would be willing to take the speculation, if the price could be made reasonable."

"Oh, I'll tell it," answered Jenks, winking at the gentlemen present.

"What do you call it?" inquired.

"I'll tell it for fifty pounds," Jenks answered, puffing forth a cloud of smoke, and repeating the word "fifty" several times.

"Well, that is cheap; and you'll sell your board for fifty pounds?"

"I will," said Jenks.

"I'll take it. When can I have it?"

"Any time you choose to call for it."

"Very well, it's mine. I think I shall double my money at least."

I took a bill of sale as follows:

"Received of S. Jenks, Esq., five pounds in full for my board, to be worn by me, and taken off and delivered to him when called for, at Jenks."

The sum of fifty pounds was paid, and Jenks left the office in high glee, flourishing five bank notes, and telling all his acquaintances of the great bargain he had made by the sale of his board.

The broker and his friends laughed at him, for they knew that he was a man of great wealth, and they knew that he was a man of great power. They knew that he was a man of great influence, and they knew that he was a man of great authority. They knew that he was a man of great distinction, and they knew that he was a man of great prominence. They knew that he was a man of great reputation, and they knew that he was a man of great fame. ## WOOLSFORD WESLEYAN SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.

It was a special and important day at the Woolfsford Wesleyan Chapel on Sunday last, the services being set apart for the Sunday School anniversary, and right heartily did the juveniles enter into the spirit of the occasion.

Mr. Graves, of Leeds, was the special assistant, occupying the pulpit throughout the day. He preached suitable and greatly-appreciated sermons morning and evening, and in the afternoon, conducted a service for the scholars and young people. The special assistant, Mr. Graves, was very much enjoyed by the scholars and young people. The services were very interesting, and the children were very much pleased with the results. The festival was a great success, and the children were very much pleased with the results.

THE MARTIANS.

Camille Flammarion, the great French astronomer, has been studying Mars and its probable inhabitants. As regards resemblance of the planet to Earth, he says the question may be settled in the negative; they can not resemble us.

SCIENCE UP-TO-DATE.

THE FOOD FOR THE STARVING.

Experiments have been made by Professor Moore to test the effect of sugar in cases of exhaustion from hunger. His results confirm the theory that sugar is assimilated by the exhausted system more rapidly than bread, and he finds a rapid rise in temperature within 10 or 15 minutes after a small quantity of sugar is eaten by a long-suffering animal, the effect reaching a maximum in one or two hours. Sugar really acts to keep suffering from loss of vital heat, when meat albumen could not save them.

A MOUNTAIN OF ALUM.

In China, about 12 miles from the village of Liao Chak, there is a mountain of alum which, in addition to being a natural curiosity, is a source of wealth for the inhabitants of the country, who dig from it yearly one of alum. The mountain is not less than ten miles in circumference at its base, and has a height of 1,900 feet. The alum obtained by quarrying large blocks of stone, which are first heated in great furnaces and then in vats filled with boiling water. The alum crystallises and forms a layer about six inches in thickness. This layer is subsequently broken up into blocks weighing about ten pounds each.

or four popular musical festivals other than Palace. The first was the concerts of the Royal Academy of Music.
The choir of 5,000 or 6,000 singers. This year the Odeon presented a melancholy apostrophe which I saw, and a photograph taken of last year, when all seats were full. You will what beggary array of empty rows now presents shrinkage in the audience is now noticed the same. These are the signs of the times.
Tonic Solis Association. The head of the an excellent movement announce publicly that they
to sing practically lost all their ardent singers.
to look to the public appeal to public attention to press on the railway man's consideration of their recent decision? There must any thought of the man who still retain the traditions

It differs from all in the private domain, and it is laid down in the judge's house, and is, of course, complete in all details. The number of big rooms has been carved with several leaves have been marked, and none left in. Whenever Mr. Justice Kewchik has been in the judge's house, he has found the links of the Woking or the St. George's Club, of both of which he is a member, and the regular members of the club have been in the judge's house, and he has been himself in "putting." This is the difficult point in golf, and is responsible for the gain the loss of more games than any other, and is the most difficult of all. The distances are essential, and with Mr. Justice Kewchik is simply advised, and the regular members of the club are the opportunity of practice. He should be a valuable opponent on the links.

HERNANDEZ AND SUTTER

Dr Stevenson: They would not reach Colwell.

Dr Wright: They would end their happy existence before getting there you think?

Dr Stevenson: Yes. He would not say, however, as to whether he would prefer a similarly suitable site further away from Colthwell.

Dr Buck was next examined, and in the main confirmed the statements of the previous witness. He said nothing about on to the steep declivity of Abraham's Hill as a means of getting the drainage away, nor could he see any risk of aerial infection.

In answer to Mr Wright as to the desirability of having the hospital at Churchfields, he said isolation hospitals were not desirable buildings anywhere.

Mr. Dickinson asked what was the

Mr Wright drew attention to the dangers that frequently arose to buildings through coal mining operations.

Mr Dodgson put in the correspondence that took place between the Council and the coal Government Board after the last inquiry, showing that the central authority at that time were prepared to sanction the use of the same purposes as the joint committee desired to use it. The amount of the purchase money had at first been surcharged, but had since been allowed. There was no objection by the Rothwell Council treating

Mr Wright in speaking finally in opposition, said that by all means there should be proper provision made for the treatment of infectious cases, but to the Churchfield site he had very strong objection, not touching personal interest, or personal pockets, but the interest and development of the district.

he proposed site was too near the population, and was situated on the same side of the well as the extension of building operations were taking place. There were other similarly eligible sites further away—he could not have them spoil the beauty of the village of Oulton or the more beautiful village of Woodlesford, but without doing this

There was abundance of land equally suitable, and far less to be objected to. He trusted the Committee would look at the question calmly and dispassionately. The site in question had been privately purchased by a member of the then Rothwell Local Board.

more than ten years ago for the local authority, without an inquiry being made by the Local Government Board, interest on the purchase money being paid out of the ordinary funds. The proposal comes for an isolation hospital and the local authority takes it as a favourable opportunity of getting out of their dilemma.' Mr Wright opposed on behalf of Mr Smith's Trustees. Some of this land he represented was let on trust for a boy six months old, the Trustees could not move in the matter and in 1890 the land was let out on a ten years lease. That lease had now expired, and they had now full power to act; not six months ago they had applications for the land on the isolation hospital proposals the sale fell through. The same thing applied to Mr. Parker's land. The scheme of Mr. Smith's trustees was now ready; an offer would be made the Council to carry a road through the land in question, and thus open up the

There was also the question of subsidence, which should be considered, and might prove disastrous to buildings, as had been the case in other parts of the district where the coal had been got. He trusted the Committee would carefully consider these matters before coming to any definite conclusions.

The following story will show how Bile Beans for Biliousness will give you life, ambition, and strength, and knock out "that tired feeling."

lades, and weakness of the legs. whenever she walked it was only with great caution she avoided falling; and even when the dreaded giddiness did not overtake her, her knees trembled so that to stand unsupported for a short time was a difficult task. Headache and indigestion followed fast in the steps of other maladies, showing that she

One day her husband took her a box of a new medicine he had seen advertised in the newspapers. This medicine was called Charles Forder's Bile Beans for Biliousness. She took some of the Beans, and to her intense delight her dizziness quickly disappeared, her legs regained their strength

ROTHWELL DISTRICT COUNCIL.

A monthly meeting of the above Council, was held on Wednesday evening last, in the Council Chamber, Councilor Walter Hargreaves, J.P., presiding. The other members present were—Councillors B. Taylor (Vice-chairman), J. Stead, H. Nichols, G. Arncliffe, J. Oliver, J. Abrahams, J. Armstrong, S. Dobson, H. S. Turnbull, A. W. Benson, J. W. Bulmer, with the clerk (Mr. W. Lodge), medical officer (Dr. Stevenson), surveyor (Mr. J. T. Peers), and the newly-appointed nuisance inspector (Mr. Mousbourne).

At a meeting of the above committee held on the 9th inst., a letter was read from the tenant of the Black Bull Hotel, Rotherham, asking that the causeway in front of his house, might be taken up, and put into the hands of the Council.

The owners, Messrs. Taylor and Sons, were prepared to pay half cost of this was done. The Committee were of the unanimous opinion that the Council would be justified in bearing any part of the cost of such an alteration. It was agreed that two gullies be put down near the Angel Inn, on condition that certain paving be carried out by the owners. The Clerk decided that notice be served on the owners of property abutting on the roads from the top of Meynell Avenue, up to Mrs. Clayton's house at Church Field, to put the roads concerned into proper repair. The Surveyor reported that the paving in Bell Hill would be completed in a few days. Orders were given for prices of snow ploughs to be obtained; and estimates for shovels to be got out. It was decided that 2d. 6d. each and cost of license be charged to wagonette proprietors. The Clerk was instructed to see if arrangements could not be made with the Leeds Corporation for the removal of refuse. The Committee decided that the Council should be asked to consider the question of the workmen's wages, and recommended that an advance be made for the week, making the wages for labourers 41s. and foremen 51s. Arrangements had been made with the Railway Co. to have the bridge over the Wakefield road constructed so as to make it drop at one end only.

Mr. B. Taylor proposed the confirmation of the minutes. In considering the question of the workmen's wages, he said, the Committee thought it advisable to give an advance rather than an advance to one man here and another there.

Mr. J. Abrahams seconded the motion. The Chairman: How many men does the advance affect?

Mr. Oliver: About twenty; the men under the Highway Committee.

Mr. Stead thought the proposed alteration opposite the Black Bull would be a good one and asked if the cost had been ascertained.

Mr. Bulmer said that being interested in the licensing of wagonettes, he felt that the Committee had been rather too severe in the price to be charged for the license and badges. He thought the Committee were seeking to make something out of the transaction, whereas only sufficient should be charged to cover actual cost. It was already a severe struggle for a livelihood with the proprietors, and he thought that the charge should be made by the ratepayers. He was pleased to hear of the advance to workmen, but thought the Committee had hardly gone far enough.

HIGHWAYS COMMITTEE.

At a meeting of the above committee held on the 9th inst., a letter was read from the tenant of the Black Bull Hotel, Rotherham, asking that the causeway in front of his house, might be taken up, and put into the hands of the Council.

Mr. J. Abrahams seconded the motion. The Chairman: How many men does the advance affect?

Mr. Oliver: About twenty; the men under the Highway Committee.

Mr. Stead thought the proposed alteration opposite the Black Bull would be a good one and asked if the cost had been ascertained.

Mr. Bulmer said that being interested in the licensing of wagonettes, he felt that the Committee had been rather too severe in the price to be charged for the license and badges. He thought the Committee were seeking to make something out of the transaction, whereas only sufficient should be charged to cover actual cost. It was already a severe struggle for a livelihood with the proprietors, and he thought that the charge should be made by the ratepayers. He was pleased to hear of the advance to workmen, but thought the Committee had hardly gone far enough.

Mr. Taylor said the charge of 2d. 6d. had been taken for a suggestion made by one of the proprietors. He thought, however, the Committee must meet to discuss the matter. The Committee certainly did not wish to make anything out of it. With regard to the shovels, he expected they got out. Rotherham, they would also want one at Carlton, Lofthouse and Stourton.

Mr. J. Oliver: The Committee have no intention of making anything out of the wagonette proprietors. The figure was suggested by the proprietors themselves, and if it is less, I don't think it will cover cost.

Mr. G. Arncliffe: The profit, I think, will be on the other side.

Mr. Seaton: I should like to thank the Highway Committee for considering the field. I hope their efforts will bear fruit. The minutes were then confirmed.

SANITARY BUSINESS.

At a meeting of the Sanitary Committee, the Surveyor was instructed to divert the back at Guller Bridge, so as to relieve pressure on the man hole on the side of the back. The Clerk reported having inspected the Lofthouse sewage works, and had to complain of the trade refuse sent down by the Woodhouse Brewery Co. It was decided that the Clerk ascertain how similar refuse was dealt with by other Brewery Companies. The consideration of the application of Mr. Wilkinson, for an increase of wages was deferred for his motion. A letter was read from the Wakefield Waterworks Co. stating that the Guardians refused to take any infectious cases into their Workhouse.

Mr. Abrahams proposed and Mr. Nichols seconded the confirmation of the minutes. Mr. Taylor: I understand some complaints are going about respecting overflowing

Mr. Seaton said complaint had been

ROTHWELL WESLEYAN CHAPEL.
VISIT OF THE REV. THOS. WAUGH.
Special services, at which collections were taken in support of the trust funds, were conducted in the above place of worship, on Sunday last, Mr. Thomas Waugh, of Rothwell, occupying the pulpit in the morning.
Mr. Waugh is a Minister of the Gospel in the evening. Next day, Monday, the Rev. Thomas Waugh, connexion evangelist, preached a helpful and practical sermon in the afternoon, on "The relation to the Church," or "The home and the member."
The service was held in the school-room, and in the evening, Mr. Waugh lectured in the chapel on "Some lessons from my ministry."
There was a good attendance. The Rev. S.
Arnold conducted the opening devotion,
and explained that Mr. Walter Hargreaves, who was announced to preside, was unable
through ill-health, to fulfil his engagement;
he had not, however, forgotten the practical part, and had written a contribution to the collection of £1 1s. He had therefore to ask Mr. Lygo to kindly occupy the chair.
Mr. Lygo expressed regret at Mr. Har-greaves' inability to be present, and acknowledged his general interest in supporting the collection, which was in behalf of the trust funds.

In response to the Chairman's call, Mr.
Waugh commenced his lecture and said that congregations of evangelists or ecclesiastical visitors were many matters placed under serious disadvantages as compared with regular ministers. He could not get one of the time in his study with his book that a stationed minister could profit
by, nor gain by converse or methodical reading as was the opportunity of many, but they were told that there is a law of compensation running through life, and he was inclined to believe it, for if he had limited opportunities of reading books, he had a unique opportunity of reading the open book of human nature. A few of the deepest impressions made upon him in his work and observations he wished to place before them.
Of the most important of these, he said, the Church to-day, was that every Christian would be a Christian worker. Every Christian was supposed to be, and was pledged to be a Christian worker, but they preached and prayed, and talked, and sang so much about the work of the Church, that they were grave peril of the actual work being altogether forgotten. The last thing God intended the Church to be was a mutual congratulatory society. As soon as a man was converted, he was made a member, and made debtor to all men, and responsible for the evangelisation of the world round about him. It was an unpayable labour to be connected with Christ in this work.

It should not be like a small farm owner, who has two or three acres, and which was quite willing to do all his work on the farm and the other, quite willing to let it be. It was not room for a spirit of that sort in the Church. "Anybody could do that work," he said, "and he could not do the work in his own hands. He called himself a fish in great ponds, and only the previous week it was his pleasure to address an inquiry room filled with seekers after truth, and he said with the red and white line, and land one by one. To change the figure, God generally sent him into the orchards where the fruit had been brought to ripeness, and only a good shake of the tree would bring the fruit down. He said
"Other fruit had to be picked one by one, and as a rule the picked fruit was the soundest and best." In his opinion there was no work in the Church going to be so fruit-

"OUR SOLDIER LADS."
The following is a continuation of the experience of Sergeant T. Lawrence in the war in South Africa, as related by him at the dinner given in honour of his return, at the Stourton Hotel, on November 30th:—
On February 28th, the troops were formed
up into different brigades, and on March 1st,
we were ordered to march to a place called a distance of 5 miles from Paardeburg, and account of the filthy water we had been compelled to drink from the Modder River. We remained here to recruit our health until March 7th, when we were ordered to march a.m. having boiled rice and bully beef for breakfast; after this each man was served with one pound of beef and three biscuits, to carry for dinner. We marched off at 1.30 a.m. towards Poplar Grove, where we found the enemy strongly entrenched on the Kopjes. After a short engagement here, we followed in hot pursuit, covering during the day a distance of upwards of 50 miles. Our clothes were wet through, and the relief that night and without any cover, as our convoys could not keep up. March 8th, we started off breaking again at noon and covered another 10 miles. I was here on outpost duty all night, and the brigade started on their march for a rest. March 10th, found us
and breakfasting at 4.30 a.m.; we marched
off at 8 a.m. but before we had gone far we encountered the Boers on the kopje on our left. We had a severe engagement, and (Dreifontein) getting our men enough to each other to strike our foe with the rifle. We were here compelled to rush the attack at 400 yards distance, in consequence of the treachery of the enemy who had had time
for us. March 11th, roused at 4 a.m., breakfast again at 5 a.m. (this time getting coffee
and biscuits) we marched at 6.30 a.m. leaving 100 dead Boers behind to be buried by
our own party; covered another 20 miles, and about 12 miles. March 12th, roused at 3.15 a.m., coffee at 4 a.m., started at 4.30 a.m.
and went about 16 miles. March 13th, a
day's rest, and here we received the welcome
news that General Buller had been relieved
by Lord Roberts at 7.30 p.m. March 14th, commenced marching at midnight, and
arrived at Bloemfontein at 1.30 p.m., having covered 30 miles. March 15th, we were outpost duty at night. I was here on outpost duty all night, and the brigade started on their

3.15 a.m., coffee at 4 a.m., started at 4.30 a.m.
and went about 16 miles. March 13th, a
day's rest, and here we received the welcome
news that General Buller had been relieved
by Lord Roberts at 7.30 p.m. March 14th,
commenced marching at midnight, and
arrived at Bloemfontein at 1.30 p.m., having
covered 30 miles. March 15th, we were
outpost duty at night. I was here on outpost
duty all night, and the brigade started on their
march for a rest. March 10th, found us
and breakfasting at 4.30 a.m.; we marched
off at 8 a.m. but before we had gone far we
encountered the Boers on the kopje on our
left. We had a severe engagement, and (Dreifontein) getting our men enough to each other to strike our foe with the rifle. We
were here compelled to rush the attack at 400 yards distance, in consequence of the
treachery of the enemy who had had time
for us. March 11th, roused at 4 a.m., breakfast again at 5 a.m. (this time getting coffee
and biscuits) we marched at 6.30 a.m. leaving 100 dead Boers behind to be buried by
our own party; covered another 20 miles, and
about 12 miles. March 12th, roused at 3.15 a.m., coffee at 4 a.m., started at 4.30 a.m.
